Requisitos: An industrial French multinational company is looking for an Operations & Logistics Manager for their Spanish affiliate. The group is present in Western Europe, in some countries of the East and also is strongly represented in Africa and in the Middle East. In Spain, the Group is now starting a new development stage. Up to date, the Spanish Branch was only responsible for delivering the portfolio of products of the company. New project lies in creating a new production plant to supply Spanish market and reorganizing the area of logistics and operations in order to obtain important savings for the company. The Spanish headquarters are based near Toledo. The appointed candidate will report to the General Manager of the company in Spain and to the Operations Head in the holding company. This job is a new creation position, so much of it's content has to be created and launched, so we are looking for: -A very organized person, with a lot of initiative, and with strong capabilities of development and management. -The candidate will have strong analytical skills and be very sensitive with cost management. -He/she will have demonstrated experience in setting explicit priorities, aligning resources and knowing how to identify and focus on issues which are critical and have the highest impact to ensure the budget is accomplished. -He/she will be fluent either in English or French.
